

Paris Valence 2025: Program

Sorbonne Université
Paris, France

Thursday, 12 June

14h00–14h50	Are there Bad Dual Character Concepts Karolina Prochownik (Ruhr-University Bochum) & Guilherme de Almeida (Insper São Paulo)
14h50–15h40	The Knobe Effect tripping over a rick? (Epistemic) Side-Effect Effect for unaware agents and inverse (Epistemic) Side-Effect Effect for non-human protagonists Maciej Tarnowski & Adrian Ziółkowski (University of Warsaw)
15h40–16h10	Coffee break
16h10–17h25	KEYNOTE ADDRESS The Language of Dual Character Joshua Knobe (Yale University)

Friday, 13 June

09h30–10h20	Valence and framing effects: default connotation vs. goal consistency Berry Claus, Lavinia Gesing, Imelda López & Marie Christin Walch (Leibniz Universität Hannover)
10h20–11h10	Affect First?! Evaluating the Affect-First Hypothesis through Valence Morgan Moyer (Sorbonne Université), Anouch Bourmayan (Sorbonne Université), Isidora Stojanovic (Universitat Pompeu Fabra / CNRS) & Brent Strickland (Institut Jean Nicod, ENS-PSL / CNRS)
11h10–11h40	Coffee Break
11h40–12h30	Wrongful discrimination - a tautological claim? An empirical study of the evaluative dimension of discrimination vocabulary Pascale Willemsen (University of Zurich), Jan Garcia Olier (University of Zurich), Simone Sommer Degn (University of Aarhus), Kevin Reuter (University Gothenburg)
12h30–14h15	LUNCH
14h15–15h30	KEYNOTE ADDRESS More than words: The role of attitude in verbal irony Diana Mazzarella (University of Neuchâtel)
15h30–16h00	Coffee Break
16h00–16h50	Reclaiming Slurs over Apparent Time Nat Hansen (University of Reading) & Shen-yi Liao (University of Puget Sound)
16h50–18h05	KEYNOTE ADDRESS Valence asymmetries: How to navigate social and political conflict Nicole Gotzner (Osnabrück University)